

Girls Power Tech Day

On Thursday, May 2nd, Eastport-South Manor sent ten motivated and passionate high school girls to Miller Place High School to celebrate 'Girls in ICT Day'. Girls Power Tech Day is an international event, hosted by Eastern Suffolk BOCES, in partnership with CISCO that is designed to encourage young women to pursue careers in STEM. During this day, the girls learned about many opportunities available to them in areas of STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) by networking with several successful STEM industry professionals. The girls were also given hands-on exposure to the latest technologies including using coding with TELLO to fly a drone. This was the 3rd year that Eastport-South Manor took part in this innovative event and we are looking forward to next year!
